

Feedback on JT4-079-90 (25 Jul 90)

SG1A

00B: 250949 JUL 90

The F/V [REDACTED] appears to be a companion vessel for the sailing vessel described on 24 JUL 90 (JT4-76-90). The sailing vessel acts as a "stop and shop" for drugs for users who want to buy at sea, but also has the capability to offer drugs in "investment" grades and quantities, offers a "brokerage" service for those who want to invest in other smuggling operations (both drugs and other goods), and even offers a range of "utility" services, proffering drug-related paraphernalia, information, contacts, etc. to its customers. [REDACTED] acts as some sort of a supply ship or floating "store room" where the people on the sailing vessel stockpile goods until needed. The ship identified w/ C/S [REDACTED] is metal, motor powered, and is ready to be scuttled at a moment's notice. The sailing vessel is "kept clean" for all appearances, carrying only samples for the customers. In reality, however, it has cocaine "built" into its sub-flooring and is, itself, for sale. A high enough price can buy the vessel "as is" in order to get the cocaine.

The man running this operation may be Indian (from India). He seems to have a loose, but strong connection w/South American drug sources as well as Asian and European sources to provide more "exotic" wares. The companion ship, [REDACTED] has a small staff which consists of men and young boys. They are well drilled in safety procedures, in case scuttling becomes necessary. The boys have a sense of "a year at sea", for extremely good pay.

SG1A

00F: (251034 JUL 90)

The target is a fishing/trawler vessel with several boom-like projections extending from the deck. It's condition is unkept and damaged. The bridge/cabin area has several odd angles associated with the front of it. The vessel produces an overly large amount of exhaust/smoke while running. There are nets or something woven hung "out in the wind" but are not being currently used for the intended purpose. The vessel is not fishing. It is towing something behind it that is rectangular in shape and tapers down from the front to the rear. The target is associated with C/S [REDACTED] and the U/I S/V. The target is acting as a "look out" or early warning system for the [REDACTED] operation. Impression that either the target or the U/I S/V will fake becoming hung up on the bottom or a reef and the other vessel will come to help. This ploy will be used in order for the two vessels to meet. The target and S/V will then take a parallel course (with each other) after the meeting. Additional information: The name/term BAPTISTE is important to the target vessel (former name?). The activity of the target has something to do/revolves around the area near the life ring on the starboard side of the deck at the rear of the cabin/bridge section. There is an access in this specific location to the forward hold area under the bridge/cabin. This forward hold area is mostly empty at the present time. There are objects within this area that have to do with "folding out" from the sides of the vessel. The target is not currently carrying narcotics but has been "dirty" in the past.

SG1A

SG1A

SG1A SG1A
OOG: 251030L

The activity of the [REDACTED] is both personal and work related. It is associated with the [REDACTED]. However, they are not currently communicating with each other to make a drug connection / transfer. The 33 foot s/v descibed on July 24 is not associated and a search would not find cocaine aboard this vessel.

SG1A SG1A
OOD: 250915L

The vessel [REDACTED] is a fishing vessel with a blue superstructure. It is not associated with callsign [REDACTED]. However, it is associated with the 33 foot S/V described in JT4077 on 24 Jul. They seem to be working together. There will be some kind of transfer made.

A person with a deep, raspy voice is giving orders and they are just awaiting the transfer.

]

SG1A

Approved For Release 2000/08/08 : CIA-RDP96-00789R001100550003-7

Approved For Release 2000/08/08 : CIA-RDP96-00789R001100550003-7

Feedback on JT4-079-90 (25 Jul 90)

SG1A

00B: 250949 JUL 90

The F/V [REDACTED] appears to be a companion vessel for the sailing vessel described on 24 JUL 90 (JT4-76-90). The sailing vessel acts as a "stop and shop" for drugs for users who want to buy at sea, but also has the capability to offer drugs in "investment" grades and quantities, offers a "brokerage" service for those who want to invest in other smuggling operations (both drugs and other goods), and even offers a range of "utility" services, proffering drug-related paraphernalia, information, contacts, etc. to its customers. [REDACTED] acts as some sort of a supply ship or floating "store room" where the people on the sailing vessel stockpile goods until needed. The ship identified w/ C/S [REDACTED] is metal, motor powered, and is ready to be scuttled at a moment's notice. The sailing vessel is "kept clean" for all appearances, carrying only samples for the customers. In reality, however, it has cocaine "built" into its sub-flooring and is, itself, for sale. A high enough price can buy the vessel "as is" in order to get the cocaine.

The man running this operation may be Indian (from India). He seems to have a loose, but strong connection w/South American drug sources as well as Asian and European sources to provide more "exotic" wares. The companion ship, [REDACTED] has a small staff which consists of men and young boys. They are well drilled in safety procedures, in case scuttling becomes necessary. The boys have a sense of "a year at sea", for extremely good pay.

00F: (251034 JUL 90)

The target is a fishing/trawler vessel with several boom-like projections extending from the deck. It's condition is unkept and damaged. The bridge/cabin area has several odd angles associated with the front of it. The vessel produces an overly large amount of exhaust/smoke while running. There are nets or something woven hung "out in the wind" but are not being currently used for the intended purpose. The vessel is not fishing. It is towing something behind it that is rectangular in shape and tapers down from the front to the rear. The target is associated with C/S [REDACTED] and the U/I S/V. The target is acting as a "look out" or early warning system for the [REDACTED] operation. Impression that either the target or the U/I S/V will fake becoming hung up on the bottom or a reef and the other vessel will come to help. This ploy will be used in order for the two vessels to meet. The target and S/V will then take a parallel course (with each other) after the meeting. Additional information: The name/term BAPTISTE is important to the target vessel (former name?). The activity of the target has something to do/revolves around the area near the life ring on the starboard side of the deck at the rear of the cabin/bridge section. There is an access in this specific location to the forward hold area under the bridge/cabin. This forward hold area is mostly empty at the present time. There are objects within this area that have to do with "folding out" from the sides of the vessel. The target is not currently carrying narcotics but has been "dirty" in the past.

SG1A SG1A

OOG: 251030L

The activity of the [REDACTED] is both personal and work related. It is associated with the [REDACTED]. However, they are not currently communicating with each other to make a drug connection / transfer. The 33 foot s/v described on July 24 is not associated and a search would not find cocaine aboard this vessel.

SG1A SG1A

OOD: 250915L

The vessel [REDACTED] is a fishing vessel with a blue superstructure. It is not associated with callsign [REDACTED]. However, it is associated with the 33 foot S/V described in JT4077 on 24 Jul. They seem to be working together. There will be some kind of transfer made.

A person with a deep, raspy voice is giving orders and they are just awaiting the transfer.

1